ST 00-0270-GIL 11/29/2000 DELIVERY CHARGES

As a technical proposition, handling charges represent a retailer's cost of doing business, and are consequently always included in gross charges subject to tax. See, 86 III. Adm. Code 130.410. (This is a GIL.)

Dear Xxxxx:

This letter is in response to your letter dated October 30, 2000. The nature of your letter and the information you have provided require that we respond with a General Information Letter, which is designed to provide general information, is not a statement of Department policy and is not binding on the Department. See 2 III. Adm. Code 1200.120(b) and (c), which can be found on the Department's website at http://www.revenue.state.il.us/legalinformation/regs/part1200.

In your letter, you have stated and made inquiry as follows:

We are a multi level marketing company located in CITY/STATE. We will be starting a line of jewelry that will be drop shipped directly from COUNTRY via Federal Express to out distributors or retail customers. We would like to know the tax ramifications of drop shipping this directly from COUNTRY. We will be charging our customers the merchandise price, shipping and VAT/import duties. On which charges do we need to charge tax?

If the retail sales amount of the merchandise is $100.00, the shipping charge is $15.00, the VAT is $10.00 and the tax amount is 8.25%, then what do we need to charge tax on and how much would the tax be?

If you have any questions please give me a call at ####.

In response to your question, I am assuming that your company has nexus with Illinois and that the company located in COUNTRY does not have nexus with Illinois. It is my understanding of the facts set forth in your letter that you are purchasing items from the company in COUNTRY for resale to customers in Illinois. You are then having the company in COUNTRY ship those items directly to your customers in Illinois. If you act as an Illinois retailer, you are responsible for remitting Retailers' Occupation Tax on such sales. If you act as a "retailer maintaining a place of business" in Illinois, you will be required to collect Use Tax on your Illinois sales. If you are not sure whether your company has nexus with Illinois, the following information outlines the principles of nexus. Please note that in the context of a General Information Letter, the Department is unable to make nexus determinations because the amount of information required to make that determination is often best gathered by an auditor. We hope this information is helpful to you in determining whether you are responsible to pay tax in Illinois.

An "Illinois Retailer" is one who either accepts purchase orders in the State of Illinois or maintains an inventory in Illinois and fills Illinois orders from that inventory. The Illinois Retailer is then liable for Retailers' Occupation Tax on gross receipts from sales and must collect the corresponding Use Tax incurred by the purchasers.

Another type of retailer is the retailer maintaining a place of business in Illinois. The definition of a "retailer maintaining a place of business in Illinois" is described in 86 Ill. Adm. Code 150.201(i), enclosed. This type of retailer is required to register with the State as an Illinois Use Tax collector. See 86 Ill. Adm. Code 150.801, enclosed. The retailer must collect and remit Use Tax to the State on behalf of the retailer's Illinois customers even though the retailer does not incur any Retailers' Occupation Tax liability.

The United States Supreme Court in Quill Corp. v. North Dakota, 112 S.Ct 1904 (1992), set forth the current guidelines for determining what nexus requirements must be met before a person is properly subject to a state's tax laws. The Supreme Court has set out a 2-prong test for nexus. The first prong is whether the Due Process Cause is satisfied. Due process will be satisfied if the person or entity purposely avails itself or himself of the benefits of an economic market in a forum state. Quill at 1910.

The second prong of the Supreme Court's nexus test requires that, if due process requirements have been satisfied, the person or entity must have physical presence in the forum state to satisfy the Commerce Clause. A physical presence is not limited to an office or other physical building. Under Illinois law, it also includes the presence of any agent or representative of the seller. The representative need not be a sales representative. Any type of physical presence in the State of Illinois, including the vendor's delivery and installation of his product on a repetitive basis, will trigger Use Tax collection responsibilities. Please refer to Brown's Furniture, Inc. v. Zehnder, (1996), 171 Ill.2d 410.

The final type of retailer is the out-of-State retailer that does not have sufficient nexus with Illinois to be required to submit to Illinois tax laws. A retailer in this situation does not incur Retailers' Occupation Tax on sales into Illinois and is not required to collect Use Tax on behalf of its Illinois customers. However, the retailer's Illinois customers will still incur Use Tax on the purchase of the out-of-State goods and have a duty to self-assess their Use Tax liability and remit the amount directly to the State. The Use Tax rate is 6.25%.

Please note that the Retailers' Occupation Tax Act imposes a tax upon persons engaged in the business of selling at retail tangible personal property. 35 ILCS 120/2 (1998 State Bar Edition). The Use Tax Act imposes a tax upon the privilege of using in this State tangible personal property purchased at retail from a retailer. 35 ILCS 105/3 (1998 State Bar Edition).

As a technical proposition, handling charges represent a retailer's cost of doing business, and are consequently always included in gross charges subject to tax. See, 86 Ill. Adm. Code 130.410. However, such charges are often stated in combination with shipping charges. In this case, charges designated as "shipping and handling," as well as delivery or transportation charges in general, are not taxable if it can be shown that they are both separately contracted for and that such charges are actually reflective of the costs of shipping. To the extent that shipping and handling charges exceed the costs of shipping, the charges are subject to tax. As indicated above, charges termed "delivery" or "transportation" charges follow the same principle.

The best evidence that shipping and handling or delivery charges have been contracted for separately by purchasers and retailers are separate contracts for shipping and handling or delivery. However, documentation that demonstrates that purchasers had the option of taking delivery of the property, at the sellers' location for the agreed purchase price, plus an ascertained or ascertainable delivery charge, will suffice. If retailers charge customers shipping and handling or delivery charges that exceed the retailers' cost of providing the transportation or delivery, the excess amount is subject to tax.

Mail order delivery charges are deemed to be agreed upon separately from the selling price of the tangible personal property being sold so long as the mail order form requires a separate charge for delivery and so long as the charges designated as transportation or delivery or shipping and handling are actually reflective of the costs of such shipping, transportation or delivery. See subsection (d) of Section 130.415. If the retailer charges a customer shipping and handling or delivery charges that exceed the retailer's cost of providing the transportation or delivery, the excess amount is subject to tax.

The Illinois Retailers' Occupation Tax (i.e. sales tax) is imposed upon the total gross receipts received by retailers who make retail sales to Illinois end users. See 86 Ill. Adm. Code 130.101, enclosed. "Gross receipts" from sales of tangible personal property at retail is defined as the total selling price or the amount of such sales. "Selling price" or the "amount of sale" means the consideration for a sale valued in money whether received in money or otherwise, including cash, credits, property, and services, but not including the value of or credit given for traded-in tangible personal property where the item that is traded-in is of like kind and character as that which is being sold, and shall be determined without any deduction on account of the cost of the property sold, the cost of materials used, labor or service cost or any other expense whatsoever." See 35 ILCS 120/1. The value added tax and import duties are considered a cost of doing business and are therefore included in gross receipts.

I hope this information is helpful. The Department of Revenue maintains a website, which can be accessed at www.revenue.state.il.us. If you have further questions related to the Illinois sales tax laws, please contact the Department's Taxpayer Information Division at (217) 782-3336.

If you are not under audit and you wish to obtain a binding Private Letter Ruling regarding your factual situation, please submit all of the information set out in items 1 through 8 of the enclosed copy of Section 1200.110(b).

Very truly yours,
